My Teaching and Learning Process

Innovations in teaching and learning can be an audacious task considering the variety in the input of students. However, blended learning that couples traditional class room teaching with modern day ICT-enabled teaching-learning process came as a panacea for the student community in the recent past. Lecture method of teaching is gradually replaced by modern teaching with the use of Interactive boards, Clarity Visualizer, LCD Projector, MLM (e-content), Group Discussion, Video lectures, Model Interviews, Vyas Channel, Gyan Dharsham Channel, INFLIBNET, E-Assignment, Spoken Tutorial Video lessons (IIT, Mumbai), E-Quiz, Memes, Download latest information, TV, Educational CDs. NPTEL Lectures, E-books, Project Works, Library Works, Role-play, mime, debate, dramatization, group/pair work etc.

Classes Taken

- Handling remedial classes to the slow learners
- Taking extra classes to students for the preparation of competitive examinations.

Teaching Media Literacy with Memes

Teaching Professional is service oriented job in our society. Every day, instructors shape youthful personalities. Teaching with innovation is helping understudies make sense of the "who", "what", and "how" of Internet messages. Images instructing is one of the productive training apparatuses for helping understudies to reveal the manners in which broad communications shapes how we see ourselves, others and our general surroundings. Image creation applications are anything but difficult to discover for workstations, tablets or cell phones. Search "image creation program" in the Apple App Store, Google Play or on workstation, and numerous choices will come up, including Meme Creator, Meme Generator and Quick Meme. Beside being a fun and novel approach to get understudy occupied with substance, these assignments can address the Creative Communicator standard, which anticipates that understudies should convey obviously and communicate inventively for an assortment of purposes utilizing the stages, instruments, styles, groups and advanced media fitting to their objectives.

Ways to Using Memes in Classroom

- Create class rules. Make an image for each standard and post them in the class room. As an elective ice-breaking action on the primary day of academic year, request that understudies make their own images dependent on the guidelines and offer the best ones with the class or post on the notice board.

- Learn new jargon. Understudies can make images to characterize or utilize new jargon. Show the word at the top, and spot the definition or a sentence utilizing the word underneath.
- Identify the novel. Understudies can utilize images to perform a point from a novel or short story they are considering. Instructors can break the class into gatherings and have each gathering make an image from relegated sections in a class novel.
- Emphasize a verifiable occasion. Educators or potentially understudies can bring a picture into an image creation program and make their very own image with a clever caption.
- Use as an ice breaker for the exercise. Instructors can make images as a straightforward method to begin the exercise with a snicker or request that the class investigate the message. Understudies can likewise make images as an approach to audit the material.
